CHRIST'S MESSAGE OF PEACE

SWEET, angelic voices chiming for the far-off epoch of the first Christmas are echoing even now over the sorrow-stricken fields of earth, repeating the inspiring strain that sounded over the cradle of the infant Christ, "Peace on earth." If we think it a mockery that at the blessed Christmastide the bells that ring across the snows of Europe's battlefields are hushed by the roar of the guns and the wail of the homeless and dying forget not that even Christ said, "I am not come to send peace on earth but a sword."

Forget not, too, that there are some things that are worse even than war, bad as it is. It is worse for a nation to barter its soul for that which satisfieth not and for that which profits nothing in the end. There are things that are infinitely worse than any war the world has ever known, but these are not consonant with the Christmas spirit.

Christ, the world's ideal, so dimly understood, so faintly followed, so marred by prejudice, so defaced by passion, entered the earth amid the singing of the angels' message of peace. In thirty short years the world leapt upon him and destroyed him; yet his last message to his followers was "Peace I leave with you; my peace I give unto you; not as the world giveth give I unto you." Fifty years more and the golden temple of Jerusalem went down in ruins amid the flames and the shrieks of the perishing Jews.

Age after age has rolled on and every Christmas the message of peace is repeated and every age sees Christians more and more realizing the truth of Christ's words, "In the world ye shall have tribulation but in me peace; be of good cheer for I have overcome the world." Far off is the era of peace; yet it is nearer at hand even now than it ever was. Never in the whole of the world's sad history have the hearts of men been uplifted to a greater comprehension of the law of God, which is the law of love, and as one hundred years ago, in the time of Napoleon's awful devastation of Europe, once again is God descending, over the red burials of the Campo Santo of all Europe, is descending in the visions of peace.

When that peace shall come it will not be, let us hope, like the peace wherewith Galgacus, the Celtic leader of the Scottish tribes, reproached the Romans, as narrated by Tacitus—"They make a solitude and they call it Peace." Over the desert of woe and ruin, of wasted hope, and love drinking its own heart's blood and crucified charity and death you can hear the sounding voice of faith as it rings out again, words never old, ever true—"Peace on earth and goodwill to men."

WHAT WILL FOLLOW THE WAR

Already the nations of Europe are beginning to discount the close of the war. It is manifest that the war cannot be pursued for a much greater period than one year more; or if followed for a longer period it will only be by the nations that have survived economically. In other words the longest purse is going to win out. Already the economic pressure is being felt by all of the belligerents; perhaps of them all Britain has suffered least, notwithstanding the fact that she is financing the allies.

When the war comes to an end, therefore, it will become a question with all the nations how to build up again the ravages caused by the dreadful conflict through which they are now passing. Germany thrown in on herself has, it is said, vast stores of manufactured goods of all kinds on hand. These it hopes to throw on the hands of Great Britain and other countries. It will send much of them to the United States, where, it is to be hoped, there will be a tariff wall to keep them out. At present they could swamp the country with cheap goods.

Allied authorities of the mercantile world are now beginning to discuss the problem of after-war conditions. It is more than likely that Britain's traditional policy of free trade will be abandoned in favor of some protective policy that will effectually shut out German goods. The second phase of the great war will be a fiscal war.

It is said that there are still many German and Austrian trade firms in London and England. These have escaped the eye of the public because they have changed their German names to English. It is also stated that they are contemplating a large business when the war is over by becoming agents of German firms or selling for German firms with whom they are already in connection.

There is quite an agitation in England at present on this question and it is urged that this German plan for economic invasion be checked and killed by a high tariff.

Leading English newspapers indorse this policy, nay, even urge it on the government. It is difficult, however, to know if England is sufficiently alive to the necessities of its national life as far as this is concerned. Free trade doctrines have been so ingrained on the popular mind that it is difficult to erase them. Devotion to the Manchester school of political economy is as characteristic of the British liberal as devotion to the low tariff is to the American Democrat and it is difficult to change such opinions in a few days. However, there has arisen such an antagonism between Britain and Germany that it is possible that some such measure will be taken.

From Japan comes also a warning to Britain. It is said that German merchants in Japan, knowing the lack of esteem in which Germany is held in that country, have changed their German names for Japanese appellations and that Germany is already advertising for men to assist her in regaining the trade which she has lost owing to the war.

Preferential trade with the Dominions and Colonies is advocated. A lower preference with the Allies and a penalizing tariff against the enemies of the Allies are also being demanded by a large section of the British press. A commercial league of the Allies is advocated in France and it is easy to see that this race for the markets of the world when the war is over will be another kind of war, not less significant nor less far reaching in its results.

WISHING each and all a Happy Christmas and a Prosperous New Year, and thanking our liberal patrons for our most successful season in business in Glendale. Yours sincerely.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH

The Christmas Cantata, "The Promise and Fulfillment" by E. L. Ashford, will be given Sunday evening at 7:45. This will be given under the directorship of Mrs. J. D. Cole, with Mrs. H. O. Melone as accompanist. Eight former pupils of Mrs. Cole will come from Los Angeles to assist the local chorus. Do not miss this treat.

HERR TIMMNER IN THE LUTHERAN CHURCH SUNDAY NIGHT

The Lutheran people of Glendale are exceptionally fortunate in having with them this coming Sunday night to take part in their Christmas program the gifted violinist Herr Timmner. Two special numbers, the "Largo" by Handel and the "Aria" by Tenaglia, will mark his first public appearance in our city. All welcome. The service to begin promptly at 7:30.

EVENING MUSICAL PROGRAM

There will be a fine musical program at the First Methodist Episcopal church on Sunday evening. This announcement will be welcomed by music lovers. The choir is well known for its solo and ensemble work.

Full chorus, "God from on High" ..... Turner

Messrs. R. W. Lusby, Dr. Lusby
Mrs. Cammack, Mrs. E. Starkey
The words of this song were written by Samuel Parker of Glendale.
Soprano solo, "The Christmas Message" ..... Dressler
Mrs. Cammack
Full chorus, "Christmas Everywhere" ..... Nevin

The pastor will give a short sermon on the "House of the Golden Pillars." This sermon will be illustrated by use of Dr. Henry Van Dyke's story, "The Last Word."

Service begins promptly at 7:30 p. m.

At the morning hour of worship Mr. Snudden will speak on "Keep the Vocabulary of Jesus." Has this vocabulary any significance? Do words mean anything? Hear this message.

Bible school 9:40 a. m.

Epworth League and Class Meeting 6:30 p. m.

SPECIAL CHRISTMAS MUSICALE AT CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH

At 7:30 o'clock Sunday evening the choir, assisted by several talented musicians, will present an elaborate and beautiful program of Christmas music. This service promises to be one of the finest of the splendid special programs which the choir has given.

The pleasing and impressive cantata "The Light Eternal," by Rene Bronner will be presented. This will be preceeded by several special numbers by Mr. and Mrs. Jessie Albright, who have formerly been heard in Glendale with much pleasure.

The choir will consist of Mrs. A. R. Chappell, Mrs. C. M. Van Dyke, Mrs. Blake Franklin, sopranos; Mrs. W. D. McRae, Mrs. S. R. Frazee, Mrs. Jessie Albright, altos; Mr. Blake Franklin, Mr. Ralph W. Beers, tenors; Mr. H. W. Yarick, Mr. L. P. Abell, Mr. Raymond Foss, Mr. Jessie Albright, bassos; Mrs. L. P. Abell, pianist; Miss Francis Payne, violinist; Mr. A. R. Chappell, director.

Duet, "The Star and the Song," Mrs. Van Dyke and Mr. Beers. The male quartette will sing, "No Room in the Inn."

The Sunday school assembles at 9:45 a. m. It is desired to make the closing session of the year a record maker in attendance and interest.

The Christian Endeavor meets at 6:30 p. m.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE

First Church of Christ, Scientist, holds services in the Masonic Temple Sunday morning at 11 o'clock. Subject Sunday, December 26, "Christian Science.

Sunday School is held at 9:30 a. m., Wednesday evening testimony meeting at 8 o'clock.

Reading room 415½ South Brand boulevard, open daily except Sundays and holidays from 12 noon to 4 p. m., and on Friday evenings from 7:30 to 9 o'clock.

LUTHERAN CHURCH

There will be special services throughout the coming Christmas Sunday. The morning consideration by the pastor will be "The Testimony of the Christmas Shepherds." The evening service at 7:30 the Bible School will render a very interesting and entertaining Christmas program, consisting of recitations and solos by the little folks, chorus, exercises, etc. There will be an electric-lighted tree, a beautiful electric moving star guiding the mise men, a manger, and special decorations in complete harmony with the Christmas celebration. Everybody is most cordially welcome to all these services.

THAT 1916 STATIONERY

The merchant and the professional man who wish to get the favorable attention of their correspondents must use neatly printed stationery. The character of a business firm may be very correctly judged from the printed stationery such firm uses. A good quality of paper stock should be selected for your 1916 stationery, and then it should be printed by a printer of reputation and ability—a printer who knows how to arrange words so they will speak out emphatically to your correspondent.

The user of printed stationery who knows the value of neatly printed stationery will use no other. The Glendale Evening News job rooms have the reputation of doing a high class of printing—the kind of printing that proves a profitable investment for the man who uses it.

SCHOOL BOND ELECTION NOTICE

Notice is hereby given to the qualified electors of Glorietta School District, of the County of Los Angeles, State of California, that, in accordance with the provisions of the Political Code of the State of California, an election will be held on the 17TH DAY OF JANUARY, 1916,

at the school house in said District, between the hours of 8 a. m. and 6 p. m. (during which period and between which hours the polls shall remain open), at which election the question of issuing and selling bonds of said District to the amount of One Thousand Dollars, for the purpose of raising money for refunding valid outstanding indebtedness of said District, as evidenced by warrants thereof, will be voted upon.

The said bonds thereunder to be issued and sold shall be of the denomination of Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars each and shall bear interest at the rate of six per cent per annum, payable semi-annually, and shall be numbered from 1 to 4 consecutively, payable as follows, to-wit:

Bond No. 1, Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars, to run 1 year.

Bond No. 2, Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars, to run 2 years.

Bond No. 3, Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars, to run 3 years.

Bond No. 4, Two Hundred and Fifty Dollars, to run 4 years.

That F. M. Ashby will act as Inspector, and Chas. Dean and J. F. Rockey will act as the Judges of said election and conduct the same, said Inspector and Judges being competent and qualified electors of said School District.

IN WITNESS WHEREOF, we have hereunto set our hands this 22nd day of December, 1915.

A. F. WELLS,
PHILIP BEGUE,
B. F. KEARNEY,
Trustees of said School District, Los Angeles County, California.

RAILROAD FARES

Following the principle adopted by other interurban electric roads in California, the Glendale and Montrose Railway has decided to issue children's fares to all points where the present one-way fare exceeds 5 cents. For children five years and over, but under twelve years of age, the fare will be one-half the regular one way or round trip fare, adding sufficient, when necessary, to make same end in "0" or "5"; children under five years of age to be carried free when accompanied by parent or guardian. The above reduction will not apply in connection with commutation fares.

These reduced fares will be effective January 24, 1916, it being necessary to file the printed tariff showing such reductions with the state railroad commission thirty days prior to the rate going into effect.

LITTLELANDS

Mrs. Trout of Mountain View Ave. who has been quite sick, is slowly convalescing.

Recently the teachers of the colony, Miss Salstrom and Miss Wilson, went on a hike to Haines canyon accompanied by their pupils. They returned in the evening laden with holly, which is now at its best.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Darlington of Stephens Way will spend Christmas with their daughter, Mrs. C. C. Fuller and family of Pasadena.

Mr. A. C. Morgan of Los Angeles is visiting with Mr. Wieman of Pine street.

Town Meeting

At the Town Meeting Tuesday evening, Mr. F. M. Ashby, moderator and Mr. C. H. Clark, clerk, and Mrs. Woodruff, historian, present incumbents of these offices were unanimously nominated as candidates and the nominations were declared closed.

Some one asked for information concerning the bond election. Dr. Kearney, clerk of the school board, went back to the beginning and cause of the indebtedness and gave a clear explanation of the matter.

As announced at the last meeting, Mrs. Darlington gave a concise explanation of the process of canning olives for home purposes.

After this Mr. B. I. Maxwell gave an elaborate and illuminating discussion on the preparation and canning of olives for commercial purposes. Mr. Maxwell illustrated his talk on the blackboard. His lecture showed that he was thoroughly conversant with the intricacies of the olive preservation. Thanks are due to both Mrs. Darlington and Mr. Maxwell for their instructive and practical lectures.

Board of Trade

The meeting of the Board of Trade was called shortly after the adjournment of the town meeting last Tuesday evening. The chairman, P. J. Blake called the meeting to order and the secretary, F. M. Ashby, proceeded to call the roll to ascertain if there was a quorum present. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved. It was reported that $17.50 had been received not counting that collected that evening, and expenditures amounted to $3.60. This report was also accepted. No committees were ready to report. No unfinished business was brought up. A number of new names were presented for membership and duly elected.

It was reported that a number of road signs had been torn down, the evident work of vandals. The secretary was instructed to confer with the county attorney concerning this mischief. He reported that there was provided for destroying or mutilating signs a penalty of $250.00

It was announced that there is in contemplation a plan to produce a booklet to represent the entire valley with regard to views, scenery, etc., of the valley. To seek to make it self-supporting by securing advertising of the business in the valley.

It was also announced that there is some thought of providing a cemetery in the valley for the purpose of those who may wish to bury their friends here instead of taking them to a distance.

It was further reported that the Bank of Burbank is contemplating Sunland in the near future.

There is some talk of the Board of Trade taking over the management of the Clubhouse some time soon, with a view to making it self-supporting. The meeting then adjourned, subject to the call of the chairman.

Homecroft Round Table

Last Friday evening, as had been announced, Mr. Charles Metcalf, who seems to be a bee specialist, occupied the greater part of the evening with his talk on bee culture. Much of his knowledge comes from his own observation and experience. He has discovered that the Black Brood is not contagious and can be eradicated. While Foul Brood must inevitably be burned. Salt is very essential to the wellbeing of bees. It is best to give it in water set in vessels convenient to the hives. The profit in bee culture depends more on the bee-keeper than on the bees.

Mr. Maxwell gave a short talk. He gave a quotation from Maeterlink concerning bees and used that as an illustration of the effectiveness of co-operation.

Mrs. Miles spoke on the subject of recipes and thought it would be a good idea for each woman to concoct some dish from material to be found in her own garden, using a recipe that would be nourishing and form the principal dish for the meal. Samples of these to be brought to the Homecroft meeting and eventually the recipes collected and formed into a Littlelands cook book. Mr. Wieman wishes to be appointed official taster of the dishes.

Mrs. Katherine Meyer Is Dead

News has reached friends in Littlelands of the death of Mrs. Katherine Meyer which occured Thursday evening, December 9, at her home, 1412 Third street, Baker, Oregon. She was the wife of E. C. Meyer, superintendent of the Oregon Lumber company. She was ill for about three months. Mrs. Meyer was a native of New York state and 51 years of age. Besides her husband, she leaves a daughter, Mrs. Herbert Knowlton of Los Angeles and a son, C. C. Meyer of Portland, Oregon. The funeral services were held December 10 at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. Ward MacHenry, pastor of the Presbyterian church, officiating. The remains were shipped to Portland for interment. Mr. and Mrs. Meyer were former residents of Littlelands and still retain the ownership of their home on Cedar street. They left this place about a year and a half ago for their present home.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Mitchel of Los Angeles were guests of Mr. and Mrs. A. Adams, Jr., last Sunday.

W. O. Huse of Los Angeles, was a Sunday guest of his brother, G. E. Huse.

Special Christmas exercises will be given at the Sunland Baptist church Friday, December 24.

A garage is being built on the Baptist church property which will be used as a residence by the minister and his wife until a bungalow can be completed.

At the closing of the Monte Vista school for the Christmas vacation, the parents of the pupils were entertained with a pleasing program, after which presents, candy and popcorn balls, were distributed. The popcorn balls were donated by Mrs. Wm. Haflinger and the candy by the teachers.

Mr. Harry Girdlestone of Garvanza made a business trip to the valley on Tuesday and called on his sister, Mrs. A. H. Martin.

SERVICE AT LITTLELANDS

Arrangements have been made to hold Episcopal service, Dec. 26, at the Morgan ranch, Littlelands. The Rev. R. Renison will officiate. The members of the Episcopal church of whom there are quite a few in Littlelands and its vicinity are looking forward with much pleasurable anticipation to hearing the beautiful service of their own church at this Christmas season.

Mr. Charles Thayer was a business visitor in Los Angeles last Monday.

Mrs. Teel and Miss Mary Lewis drove up to Haines canyon one day this week and came home laden with the treasures of the canyon.

Mrs. Miles, Jr., has removed from the Pinsinger home among the oaks to the home of Mr. C. H. Clark on San Ysidro Road.

LA CRESCENTA

A Job for the Postman

La Crescenta's postoffice is doing a thriving business while the workers on the state highway are encamped at New York avenue. Slavonians, Greeks, Italians, Mexicans and citizens "made in the U. S. A." are among the receivers of mail. 150 men are in the camp and their labors cover a five and one-half mile territory. Incidentally, they have the road cemented to the La Crescenta bridge and have it cleaned off for travel to La Canada store. Over the cement a surface of oiled screenings will be placed.

The Begues of West La Crescenta entertained last week end, Mr. and Mrs. H. Flores of Los Angeles, Miss Katherine Klossen of La Crescenta and Mr. Sam Fusco of Los Angeles.

Christmas Program

Christmas Eve will see the best program ever given in the valley, presented by the Sunday School of the La Crescenta Presbyterian church. No regular services will be held on Christmas day, according to Rev. Theodore Hopping, but on Sunday he will preach the Christmas sermon.

Following is the program which has been arranged by Mrs. Gray and co-workers:

Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Mahar of Los Angeles, will have as dinner guests on Christmas, Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Schremp of the Harvard apartments this city, the latter and Mrs. Mahar being sisters.

Everybody is more than busy with Christmas "doings", but the Junior class of the Glendale High school is finding time to arrange for the pretty dancing party with which they will entertain at the Masonic hall on New Year's Eve.

Miss Schultz, an instructor at Intermediate school, left Thursday evening for her home in Selma, Fresno county, where the mid-winter holidays will be spent merry-making. Miss Schultz was accompanied by Miss Paulsen, a niece and her house guest for the past few weeks.

Going in over the week-end, one among the many happy family gatherings over Christmas will be that attended by Mr. and Mrs. Walter N. Stamps and family of 1306 Lomita avenue at the home of Mrs. Stamps' parents, Dr. and Mrs. G. Y. Lund, at 1227 Maryland avenue, Los Angeles.

The Two Things Necessary

TO POSSESS A BANK ACCOUNT

The first is the Desire or Inclination. Everyone has a wish for money—it is human nature, for it takes money to possess the comforts and necessities of life.

The second requirement is One Dollar or more.

The first deposit need not be large, and after the first money is deposited, you have a bank account.

The size of your bank account rests with you.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB CHILDREN'S DAY

Tuesday, December 28, will be Children's Day at the Tuesday Afternoon Club. On that afternoon at 1:30 o'clock, the doors of the Palace Grand theater will swing wide to admit a happy throng of little people and their guests. The only adults who will be present will be the mamas of the Tuesday Afternoon Club children, who will accompany their little boys and girls. Every member of the club is asked to bring her own children and three other children as guests; and if she has no young people of her own, she is asked to bring the three little guests. As this is primarily for the children, no guest cards will be honored, as no adults beside club members can be accommodated.

The program will begin at 2 sharp. It is desirab'e that all guests be seated at that time, leaving the aisles clear.

Following is the cast of characters in The Christmas Carol, Dickens' immortal allegory, which has been arranged for the occasion by Mrs. Coral Harrison Sloan, and is to be produced under her management.

Characters in order of their entrance.

Scrooge, a miser, William Justema.

Bob Cratchit, his clerk, G'adys Lowe.

Fred, his nephew, Gerald Toll.

Two portly gentlemen, John Richardson, Maynard Toll.

Old Marley's ghost, John T. Jenkins.

Wandering Spirits, in torment over wasted opportunities, Elsie Hewes, Joseph Payne, Fern Wilson, Irma Fallon, Mary McPherson, Howard Letts.

The Spirit of Christmas Past, Shirley Chase.

Scrooge's former self, as a child, George Meldo Harrison, Jr.

Scrooge's Sister Fan, Wm. Henry Harrison, Jr.

An Old Fiddler Forrest Jordan.

Old Fezziwig, a joy, Charles Hulbert Toll, Jr.

Mrs. Fezziwig, a smile, Carolyn Grey.

The three Miss Fezziwigs, bashful and lovable, Mildred McKee, Doris Packer, Orrell Hester.

Six young followers, whose hearts they had broken, Flora Kenney, Marguerite Ghiglia, Kathryn Hendricks, Alice Ewens, Marcella Miller, Gertrude Coward.

The Housemaid, Constance Donisler.

Her Cousin, the baker, Gerald Toll.

The Cook, Hazel Walters.

Her Friend, the milkman, Jack Jenkins.

The Little Boy, from "over the way", Dorothy Brown.

The Little Girl, from "next door", Dorothy Hinckley.

Special guests, invited from the rich and poor of the neighborhood, Lillian Mason, Marian Grey, Dorothy Potter, Betty Heustis, Virginia Thom, Marjorie Parick.

Scrooge, as an apprentice, Kenneth Cousins.

George's chum Dick Wilkins, Livingstone Thom.

Scrooge in the Prime of Life, Gerald Toll.

Scrooge's Sweetheart Belle, Edith Kirbenstein.

Belle's Daughter, 20 years later, Bernice Kirbenstein.

Belle's Husband, John T. Jenkins.

Guests at Christmas Party, (too numerous to mention.)

Baby, accused of swallowing a frying pan, Rhodora McKee.

Excited Little Sister, Virginia Thom.

Nurse, plain but athletic, Nora Flannigan.

The Joyous Spirit of Christmas Present, Dorothy Bonnell.

Mrs. Cratchit, Ruth Palmer.

Belinda Cratchit, who sings, Eleanor Bradford.

Peter Cratchit, who plays, Maynard Toll.

Two Young Cratchits, Margaret Lou Ledbetter, Floyd Kenney.

Martha Cratchit, Faith Tarling.

Tiny Tim, Billy Harrison.

Scrooge's Niece, by marriage, Mildred McKee.

Mr. Topper, Kathryn Hendricks.

His Sweetheart, Hazel Walters.

A Guest, who sings, Dorothy Shaw.

Other Guests, who play blind man's buff, (legion.)

The Spirit of Want, Margaret Lou Ledbetter.

The Spirit of Ignorance, Floyd Kenney.

The Dark Phantom of the Future, Willard Hewes.

The Corpse of Scrooge, James Graves.

The Spirit of New Year Resolutions, 1916, Virginia Thom.

There will be several musical numbers introduced, among them being an old English carol, "God Bless You, Merry Gentlemen;" "Holy Night, Silent Night; a Christmas Carol, by Gaynor, "Angels, Ever Bright and Fair," Handel; "O Holy Night," Adam. The singers have been specially trained by Miss Ruby Dale, and are as follows: Doris Moyse, Ruby Margaret Groom, Helen Groom, Helen Searle, Susie Kohl, Kathryn Hendricks, Wilma Krukow, Dorothy Shaw, Evelyn Shaw, Margaret Mitchell, Margaret Brown, Lillie Schick, Rudolf Kohl, Walter Kohl, Roy Jefferson, Gerald Toll and Maynard Toll.

As has been stated before, this day has been planned primarily for the delight and profit of the children and every effort has been made to keep this double object in mind throughout the entire arrangements. That this may be thoroughly understood, the following statement by Mrs. Sloan, who will read the words of the Carol, is submitted:

"In preparing Dickens' Christmas Carol for presentation at the annual children's entertainmet of the Tuesday Afternoon Club of Glendale, I have made no attempt whatever to dramatize the story to suit the tastes or meet with the approval of the "grown-ups." Some weeks ago Mrs. Charles H. Toll, the Tuesday Afternoon Club chairman of Children's Day, asked me to arrange or plan some sort of playlet that would amuse and entertain the children, on December 28, and be, at the same time, a play in which the real meaning of the Christmas spirit might be the prominent thought. Almost immediately it occurred to me that Dickens' Christmas Carol would lend itself charmingly to our needs, and I set about at once arranging the more important chapters of the story into scenes that could be effectively presented in pantomime by children ranging in age from three to fifteen years. Throughout the entire planning and arrangemet of these scenes, I have sought to simplify and make interesting and plain to a tiny child each part of the famous allegory, so that on Tuesday afternoon the very youngest of our little guests may carry away with him the thought that true happiness comes only in doing for others."
